Cedarville College — Cedarville, Ohio

Interaction Stimulates Growth

The Cedarville College experience can be seen as the interaction of the participants with all that the college represents. The cover design seeks to picture this interplay of students with a college. The red line depicts the student in the Christian walk. Entering Cedarville College, the student interacts with every aspect of college life. Learning is not confined to the classroom. The student also learns by discussing problems and concerns with other members of the college family. Physical interaction is visibly displayed while playing basketball in the gym. All of these interactions glorify God and symbolize the vertical interaction that we have with the Creator of the Universe. These interactions are invaluable and will be remembered for the student's entire life. Even the student who chooses not to be involved is interacting. This student is learning and growing from self-interaction. After graduation, the student departs from the college interaction as pictured on the back cover and moves in an upward direction continuing to grow in wisdom learning to discern God's Truth from error.

SPECIAL EVENTS

Orientation And Bible Conference Highlight College Week

Expectancy ... Fear, Excitement ... Every student is feeling something different when he walks on Cedarville's campus to commence the 77-78 school year. College Week is designed to prepare him for the upcoming nine months of spiritual and mental growth.

Freshmen are especially busy during the week, arriving a few days earlier than upperclassmen to register and attend orientation sessions. All students attend daily meetings with Rev. Don Tyler and Rev. Galen Call, speakers for the week.

Challenges are made and invitations accepted to start the school year with God at the center of every life. Al Smith, a special highlight of the week, ministers through song. Sophomores host the Freshmen to a game night at the week's end which proves to be fun for all ...

1. "Is this the shoe sale they advertised?"

2. Galen Call explains spiritual truths to a student.

Opposite page

1. "How many lunch hours are required for graduation?"

2. Don Tyler listens intently to Al Smith as he tells another "fish" tale.

Growth Is Seen In Bookstore

Bernice Mick was born in Clendenin, West Virginia. She came to a saving knowledge of Jesus Christ as a teenager. Following High School, her father died and she became a supporter for her mother and seven brothers and sisters. For several years she worked in a drugstore and learned much about merchandising. After she had gained experience in merchandising, the Lord enabled her to attend Baptist Bible Seminary in Johnson City, New York. Transferring to Cedarville College in 1953, she graduated in the diploma program in 1955. Prior to graduation, she became involved in the enterprise of the college bookstore. Using her past preparation, she nurtured the fledgling store. The bookstore was first located in what is now the reception room of the Administration Building. It was then moved to the basement of the Fine Arts Building where a snack shop, laundry room, and student lounge were part of the bookstore operation. Continuing to outgrow its cramped quarters, the bookstore and company moved to the first floor of Patterson Hall. The final move came in 1965 when the store was established in one-half of Milner Hall. The store has nearly taken over Milner Hall with only a few rooms used for other purposes. Miss Mick has learned to use every possible square inch in the space that is given her. Books are ordered from over 500 companies. Far from being "just another college bookstore", the Cedarville College Bookstore is known across the United States and around the world. For helping Cedarville College grow into a recognized Christian Liberal Arts College and effectively serving the student body, faculty, staff, community, missionaries, visitors, and pastors, we, of the yearbook staff dedicate the 1978 Miracle to Miss Bernice Mick.

1. Uncle Sam (John Mohler) tries to enlist future Cedarville College students.
2. Barb Adams helps distribute candy to the kids.
3. Silvercreeks "Sparky" comes to enhance the Homecoming festivities.
4. The '77 Homecoming court stops for a quick publicity photo; Karen Heyburn, Freshman; Diane DeNicola, Senior; Judy Brown, Sophomore; Cindy Hall, Junior.

Homecoming

Cedarville College's Homecoming dominates the campus with numerous activities on October 14, 15, and 16. Participating in the festivities of Homecoming '77 are alumni, visitors and the student body. The organ dedication in the chapel begins the eventful weekend. On Saturday morning the annual college parade captures the spectators' attention as amusing clowns, class floats, the newly elected Homecoming court and other exhibits proceed down the main street of town. The Yellow Jackets lead their team to a victorious soccer triumph of 9-1 over Ohio Dominican. As the weekend terminates, Cedarville's campus slowly returns to its usual lifestyle making Homecoming another memorable occasion.

1. The Sophomore class claims first prize in the float competition for their idea of the old fashioned classroom.
2. One example of the many time CC out-kicks Dominican.
3. Jennifer Grosh, as Raggedy Ann, charms the Homecoming crowd.

1. Andrea MacDermaid gets a kiss from her father as she shares with her family her joy in being elected Homecoming Queen.

2. The nostalgic theme is visible throughout the parade.

"The Way We Were"

Halloween Party Is A Success

The gym comes alive with everything from clowns to Aunt Jemima on October 29, 1977 as the sophomore class sponsors the annual Halloween Party. Over 400 students participate in making the party a success.

Activities, such as an apple bob booth, a wishing well, and a pillow fight booth, focus around a Gazebo located in the center of the gym. Keith Rice, Randy Cagwin, and Dan Basye take first place as box-head midget men in a costume competition. Second place is given to Kathy Howell as Aunt Jemima and third to circus clowns Lydia West and Joan Surso.

1. Gene McMillan and Judi Riter, members of the Geritol set, are elated to have an evening away from the home.

2. Box-head midgets Keith Rice, Randy Cagwin, and Dan Basye display their First Place costumes.

3. Dr. Kent Amstutz and Nurse Paula Kozma use their syringes as squirt guns.

4. Pirate Chris Walker enters a Moshe Dayan look-alike contest.

5. The Halloween Party is invaded by a swarm of two killer bees.

Performers Present Excellent Artistry

The 1977-78 Artist-Lecture Series provides the College Family with culturally superior performances with a variety of styles. The students' interaction is chiefly inward during the concert or lecture and becomes outward as the student discusses what was said or heard with other students.

God created music so that man could glorify God. Through common grace, man can simultaneously glorify God and be entertained by this God-created medium. The expression of our innermost feelings and unutterable thoughts can often be expressed in various types of music. God also gave man the ability to articulate His Word and to rightly interpret it with guidance from the Holy Spirit. The interaction of ideas is a gift which can cause man to grow spiritually and intellectually. The spoken word, instrumental music, and vocal music are all gifts from the Creator. Obviously, our stewardship demands that we be involved in these areas as performers, lecturers, or spectators.

1. Robert Hale and Dean Wilder have been traveling as a vocal duo since 1966.

2. The varied talents of the Kriegers range from instrumental and vocal solos to ensemble singing.

3. Christine Wyrzten displays her artistry as she plays and sings her own composition.

4. Cedarville graduate Tim Kauffman possesses a wide voice range enabling him to sing bass and first tenor.

5. Duo-piano team Frances and Richard Hadden tell of their unique musical excursion to the People's Republic of China.

Ventriloquist Wins New Student Talent Night

Ventriloquist Janet Davis is the winner of the annual Student Body Project Talent Night. The Talent Night is held on November 5, 1977 in Alford Auditorium. Hosts Drs. Jim and Sharon Biddle introduce twelve intriguing acts that include vocal and instrumental solos, comedy sketches, and an excerpt from a Broadway show. The interaction is clearly visible as students show their approval or disapproval at the end of each. After the ballots are counted, Student Body Project Chairman Scott Browne gives prizes to the top three acts.

1. Drs. Jim and Sharon Biddle emcee the evening of entertainment.
2. Second place winner David Lawhead proclaims "Trouble in River City."
3. Third place winner Trudy Tangblade dramatizes a story of a little girl and the sudden death of her brother.
4. Cherie Watts and Lila Terlouw await that "special phone call."
5. First place winner Janet Davis achieves perfection as a ventriloquist.
6. Tim Moore and Bruce Sever sing, "The Outlaw."
7. The Cedarville Certs' Sweeties test their ammunition against halitosis.

Wilder's 'Our Town' Projects Realism

Thornton Wilder's "Our Town" takes place in Grover's Corners, New Hampshire at the turn of the twentieth century. The details have been purposely generalized so that you can imagine your own town and family, allowing the story to overlap with your life. This explains Wilder's use of a nearly bare stage and minimal properties. The play is classified as realism, but only as "Our Town" becomes real to you. As with any work of art, your point of contact as observer assumes the role of evaluator as well. The director encourages you to seek not only entertainment from the performance but also an insight into Wilder's philosophy and value system as it is revealed in the play.

(reprinted from comments made by Director Rebecca Baker)

1. Childhood sweethearts Emily Webb and George Gibbs (Lori LaHaye and Jeff Kohns) enter wedded bliss.

2. John Duff, Don Adamson, and Jeff Kohns philosophize about life in "Our Town."

3. Emily Webb (Lori LaHaye) arrives in the graveyard and learns of the new life after death. The townspeople inform her that she could not try to relive her past.

4. Tracy Knight, playing the part of the "Stage Manager", receives a last-minute touch-up on his make-up.

5. Mrs. Webb, Mrs. Soames, and Mrs. Gibbs (Debbie Ransom, Lorelei Rhines, and Susan Justice) converse about love and marriage.

6. Director Rebecca Baker exhibits pain in her left arm.

7. Mr. and Mrs. Webb (Tim Snell and Debbie Ransom) are the proud parents of the Bride-to-be.

Conference Spotlights Missions USA

Fellowship for World Missions, a campus organization, spotlights missions in the United States in their 1978 conference held nightly in the Chapel, January 15-20. The two mission agencies that deal exclusively in U.S. missions are Hiawatha Baptist Missions and Fellowship of Baptists for Home Missions. The Executive Director of HBM, Arthur Cunningham and the President of FBHM, Austin Plew are the featured speakers. David Buhman, HBM missionary to Milton, Vermont and Starlon Washington, missionary to the black population of Grand Rapids, Michigan share their experiences in church planting.

Hunger Day is a success as the majority of the student body chooses to miss breakfast and lunch. The money earned goes to the Baptist Mid-Missions ministry among the Hopi and Navajo Indians in Arizona. A communications system is purchased to aid two single missionaries' trip across the desolate Painted Desert.

1. Fellowship of Baptist for Home Missions expresses its needs through a multimedia display.
2. Dave Buhman, Art Cunningham, Austin Plew, and Starlon Washington discuss current issues in contemporary missions.
3. Faculty members and their advisees meet for prayer sessions on the "Day of Prayer."
4. Starlon Washington shares his burden for the black population of Grand Rapids, Michigan.
5. FBHM President Austin Plew counsels with a student.
6. Mrs. Austin Plew tells Chris Lofgren anecdotes about her ministry as the wife of FBHM's President.
7. The Abundant Life Singers present the cantata, "Harvest."
8. Fellowship for World Missions President Joel Veldt introduces a panel discussion.
9. Mr. and Mrs. David Buhman are nurturing a fledgling church in Milton, Vermont.

'Fiddler' — A Musical Masterpiece

Excerpts of Bill Anderson's review are reprinted by permission of the editorial staff of the WHISPERING CEDARS.

The MENC's recent production of the Joseph Stein-Jerry Bock-Sheldon Harnick musical "Fiddler on the Roof" proved again that there is a place for musical theatre at Cedarville. With its memorable tunes like "Tradition," "Sabbath Prayer," and "Sunrise, Sunset," the production was one which exuded excellence in all of its facets. Much of the credit for this outstanding achievement belongs to the projects mastermind, Richard Luedeke, whose brilliant direction and faithful recreation of Jerome Robbins' original choreography resulted in a unified experience that was both dramatically and musically superb. Mr. Luedeke was aided by a very capable Co-Director, Rosalie Eaton.

Producer Dawn Spencer's work was clearly visible in the program and she handled the ticket sales and publicity quite admirably. Conductor John Mohler performed with precision and professionalism.

1. Four who dared.
2. After making a wedding match for daughter Tzeitel and Lazar Wolf (R. Harper), Teyve (J. Raber) and Lazar sing, "To Life, To Life, L'Chaim."
3. The people of Anatevka celebrate the wedding of Tzeitel and Motel.
4. Teyve (J. Raber) tells Golde (L. West) about his haunting nightmare.
5. Perchik (P. Miller) serenades Hodel (J. Riter) with the enchanting love song, "Now I Have Everything."
6. Terrifying the audience, ghost Fruma-Sarah (K. Jones) warns Teyve that his daughter Tzeitel should not marry her husband Lazar Wolf.

Producer	Dawn Spencer

1. Motel and Tzeitel (C. Miller and L. De Young) promise Tevye and Golde (J. Raber and L. West) to come over to America soon.

2. Paul Edwards graphically portrays how the lives of the people of Anatevka "are as shaky as a fiddler on the roof."

3. Tevye tells Golde his "dream" that warns of Tzeitel's fate if she marries Lazar Wolf the butcher instead of Motel the tailor.

4. Ron Bigelow breathes forcefulness into the role of the Constable.

5. Mark Peters exhibits keen balance in the "Russian Bottle Dance" sequence.

Like "You're a Good Man, Charlie Brown," last spring, "Fiddler on the Roof" was another daring yet triumphant undertaking for Mr. Luedeke, his cast, and his crew. They deserve the loudest of bravos for successfully achieving that trait which is all too rare in musical theatre, perfection.

Man is a total being and thus God created the arts to reveal beauty to His creature Man. Appreciation of the arts and involvement with them is essential for members of the body of Christ. The cultural mandate given by God implies the use of our God-given gifts in the arts.

1. Constable Ron Bigelow tells Tevye (J. Raber) and the other Villagers (D. Maust, D. Cobb, D. Stoner, T. Stoner, and L. Roberts) that they have "three days" to pack up and leave Anatevka.

2. A solemn moment is shared by all in Motel and Tzeitel's traditional Jewish canopy wedding ceremony.

3. The final curtain call allows the audience to express their appreciation to the entire cast and crew. (Pictured: J. Riter, P. Miller, J. Raber, L. West, R. Phillips, G. Smith).

Alpha Chi Presents 'Vaudeville' Talent Night

Alpha Chi, the leading men's organization on campus, presents ten acts in a night of vaudeville entertainment. Alpha Chi Vice-President Phil Miller introduces each act and asks audience members to vote for the two best acts in two categories: talent and entertainment. First prize in the talent category goes to ventriloquist Janet Davis, following up her earlier triumph in the New Student Talent Night sponsored by Student Body Project. Brenda Apple and Rosalie Eaton are awarded second prize in the talent category for their rendition of Claude Bolling's "Sentimentale from Suite for Flute and Jazz Piano." First prize in the entertainment division goes to Rich Luedeke and Lydia West for their pantomime, "Les Jaserques." Stephanie Mesner and Kim Faulk achieve second prize in the entertainment division with a multimedia presentation, "The Exodus from Cedar Park."

1. Stephanie Mesner and Kim Faulk lament the "Exodus from Cedar Park."
2. Anne Tawney and Beth Namy frolic in "Midnight at the Toy Shop."
3. Rich Luedeke and Lydia West attempt to send mime artist Marcel Marceau to the unemployment office.
4. The Norman Tabernacle Choir prepares to perform their all-new "Development Cantata."
5. Loyd Stigers performs a Flor Peeters' sonata.
6. Second Place, talent category, R. Eaton & B. Apple; First place, talent category, S. Decker, acc. J. Davis; First place, entertainment category, L. West & R. Luedeke; Second Place, entertainment category, S. Mesner, acc. E. Wyse, & K. Faulk.
7. Janet Davis tells Archie that he is not ready for the bright lights of Hollywood.
8. Nancy Unroe gives her rendition of the mournful ballad, "Send in the Clowns," made popular by folk singer Judy Collins.

Blizzard Causes Cancellations

On Wednesday night, January 25, 1978, the people of Ohio and surrounding states rest comfortably inside as it rains outside. The morning of Thursday, January 26, brings the entire state of Ohio to a complete standstill. A record blizzard has arrived and all roads are virtually impassable. The Cedarville College campus is covered with swirling snowdrifts, and Academic Dean Clifford Johnson cancels classes Thursday, January 26 and Friday, January 27. Students become masters of indoor life, recording a seasonal high in the number of Rook hands played. The winter holiday spirit is observed in the cafeteria as masses of students indulge in a myriad of table games. The campus remains snow-ridden for the remainder of the winter and a portion of the spring.

1978 Spring Is A Special Event

The 1978 spring season is a special event at Cedarville College. Various classes are held outdoors and the major college activity is basking in the rays of the sun. Rockclimbing, picnics at John Bryan State Park, jogging, and softball are some of the many other activities that entice students from their rooms and the library.

Memories of one of the worst winters in southern Ohio history quickly fade into oblivion. The simple beauty of watching a tree leaf out or a flower bloom is one of the pleasures to the onset of spring. The ecological activity of God's creation is awesome and much can be learned by careful observation. It is the Christian's responsibility to be aware of the other members of God's Creation. Man has been given dominion over the other creatures and has the responsibility and privilege of subduing the earth and its inhabitants.

1. Steve Stange urges Jim Hunt to remain one bike's length behind him.
2. A local model shows off the latest in rockclimbing fashions from Paris.
3. Spring spawns the aesthetic nature in all of us as demonstrated by Dennis Gillenwater.
4. Mr. Grosh's outdoor class wonders if they can stop pretending to take notes for this candid picture.
5. David Cvetich gives someone a look they will never forget.
6. Dave Campbell and a friend initiate a Spring Quarter transfer student.
7. Craig Colas and Nancy Tenney try to stay ahead of the pack.
8. Tim Dunn and Keith Haas tell Arnold Schwarzenegger to step aside.
9. This is a common scene in early spring.
10. David Wickham exhibits the art of repelling.

Gamma Chi Adds 'A Touch Of Class'

"A Touch of Class" is the mock theme of the annual Gamma Chi Banquet held in the gymnasium on April 14, 1978. Gamma Chi is a prominent women's organization on campus dedicated to service to the school. Dinner Music is admirably provided by a local harpist and flautist. After a savory supper, entertainment is largely provided by the women of Gamma Chi. Emcees Clifford Johnson and Jody Grosh introduce each vignette in a series of satire sketches about "class" at Cedarville College. Supplementary entertainment is provided by Living Hope and the renowned Norman Tabernacle Choir. The Choir performs their newest chart-buster, "Cantata", after returning from a whirlwind tour presenting the phenomenally successful "Development Cantata" to prospective Cedarville students and friends. The evening of frivolity comes to a conclusion with the pronouncement that Cedarville men and women simply have "no class."

1. Waiter Mike Nelson shows his table that he has "class."
2. Emcee Clifford Johnson refuses to conduct a press conference at this time.
3. Joan Surso adds motions to her song.
4. Hostess Tammy Danec and Bouncer Jeff Conklin guard the entrance to the gym.
5. Emcee Jody Grosh model an outfit worn by Minnie Pearl for her debut at the Grand Ol' Opry House.
6. Gamma Chi President Nancy Drake introduces the evening of "class."
7. Living Hope sings "A Touch of Class" to the tune of "A Look of Love."
8. Ron Phillips endures the bad etiquette of Suzan Zink in a comedy sketch.
9. Carol Morgan and Dave Lawhead wonder if the food was cooked in our cafeteria.

Activities Characterize Cedar Weekend

May 5, 6, 1978 is Cedar Weekend and characterized by numerous events and activities. The annual Honors Ceremony is held in the Chapel at 10:00 a.m.

on Friday. The convocation returns to its original format, having the students on the Dean's Honor List receive their awards individually. They also receive congratulations from the faculty in their respective departments. A women's tennis match against Wittenberg

University is held in the afternoon followed by a men's NCCAA National Track Meet. G.B. Shaw's "Pygmalion", the spring play presented by the Village Players, performs its second show at 8:00 p.m. on Friday evening in Alford Auditorium. Other Friday evening activities are an obstacle course and Bonfire at Cedar Lake and a Road Rally.

Saturday, May 6, is Cedar Day and is sponsored by Alpha Chi, a men's organization on campus. Academic organization displays are set up in the gymnasium to aid in prospective student recruitment.

Chi Theta Pi, a health-science organization, sponsors the third annual Science Fair, given for area Christian High School students. Athletic competition continues as the women's softball team hosts the Ohio Valley League Tournament. The men's baseball team faces Tiffin University while the men's tennis squad hosts Wilmington College.

A matinee performance of "Pygmalion" is presented at 2:00 p.m. To conclude the day, the Cedarville College Concert Choir is presented in its Home Concert. Director David Matson conducts his final concert as he plans to devote more time administrating the Department of Music.

(Editor's Note: Staff Member of the Year goes to Maddox Resident Advisor Beatrice Printy. Dr. Stanley Ballard, Chairman of the Department of Psychology is named Faculty Member of the Year.)

Audience Receptive To G.B. Shaw's 'Pygmalion'

The Cedarville College audience is receptive to the Village Players' spring production, G.B. Shaw's "Pygmalion" presented May 4-6, 1978. The play revolves around the attempt to civilize the rough Eliza Doolittle. The superb direction of Mrs. Rebecca Baker is observed throughout the theatrical production. Miss Kirk shines as the irrepressible, indomitable, and uncivilized Eliza Doolittle. Her transformation at the conclusion of the play is nothing short of remarkable. Mr. Brumbaugh exudes confidence as the determined Professor Henry Higgins. The hard work and long hours of the cast and crew is clearly evident and all involved are commended.

1. With mounting excitement, Dawn Curtis awaits her theatrical debut as a Londoner.
2. Desiree Kirk exhibits a certain sensitivity as the rough Eliza Doolittle.
3. Make-up artist Peggy Kamphausen puts the final touches on Peggy Harrell's coiffure.
4. Alfred Doolittle (T. Filler) takes Eliza (D. Kirk) by surprise.
5. The clever Henry Higgins (M. Brumbaugh) interacts with a skeptical Colonel Pickering.
6. Eliza Doolittle displays her new image.
7. The Londoners conduct a street meeting with Mrs. Eynsford-Hill (J. Kauffman) giving Freddy (J. Liehtenheimer) a disparaging look.
8. Londoner Dan Maust demonstrates the closeness of a "Schick shave."

Johnny Hall Entertains, Ministers At J.S. Banquet

May 12 is the date of the 1978 Junior-Senior Banquet sponsored by the Class of 1979. The banquet is held at the Ohio State University's Fawcett Center for Tomorrow in Columbus, Ohio. Arriving at 7:30 p.m., the guests fellowship in the foyer of the Center. Dinner is served at 8:00 p.m. The menu includes fruit cup, roast beef, green beans, baked potato, tossed salad, rolls, fruit pie, and your choice of beverage, preferably milk.

The program portion of the evening is held in a comfortable auditorium in the Center. A multi-media presentation is dedicated to all members of the Class of 1978. Karin Angel narrates the slide presentation that includes visual representations of many seniors doing what comes naturally. Junior Class President John Potter makes the necessary acknowledgements and introduces Johnny Hall, a gospel recording artist. Mr. Hall entertains with vigor and ministers with power. His love for Jesus Christ is embodied in his music and he provides the perfect conclusion to a most enjoyable evening.

Soccer Team Rebuilds

The 1977 soccer season is a rebuilding year for Coach McGillivray and the Cedarville College Yellow Jackets. Losing nine seniors from the 1976 squad, the Jackets drop to a 4-10 overall record. However, their MOC record is 2-1 and their District 22 record is 3-2. Goalie George Mitchell is named the Most Improved Player while Captain Tom Benefiel is named the Most Valuable Player. Benefiel leads the team in goals with twelve and assists with seven. He is named to the All-MOC team along with Tom Aitken, Tom Cook, and John Cavey. Cavey, Benefiel, and Cook also achieve All-NAIA District 22 honors. Benefiel and Cavey are named to the first team of the NCCAA District III. Mark Leach and George Mitchell are given Honorable Mention in the NCCAA District III. Benefiel is given Honorable Mention in the Ohio NCCAA as well as NCCAA All-American honors. The Jackets' record obviously does not tell the whole story. Much progress was made during the season by learning from each game. The 1978 Jackets, with a young team, have an extremely bright future.

1. Tom Benefiel heads the ball away from his opponent.
2. Mike Mignard attempts to gain possession of the ball.

Jackets Post Over-.500 Record

The Cedarville College basketball Yellow Jackets post a season record that is over the .500 mark. Winning many close games and coming from behind to win proves that the Jackets are more than a 15-14 ball club. The comradery on the 1977-78 squad is impressive and the team play is refreshing. The team unity is mostly due to the quiet but strong leadership of Captain Jeff Reep. Reep has visible rapport with his teammates and is a responsible liaison between Coach Don Callan and the players.

1. The 1977-78 VARSITY BASKETBALL

Women Netters Gain Experience

The Cedarville College women's tennis team gains valuable experience at the state tournament held at Dennison College. The women netters are eliminated early due to tough draws and stiff competition. The season's final record stands at five wins and six losses. The Most Valuable Player is the number six singles player, freshman Patti Harding. Harding also garners the honor for Best Singles Record with a season mark of 5-4. Douglas honors go to the team of Amy Ross and Becky Trittipoe who compile a record of five wins and four losses. Ross and Trittipoe receive honors for the Most Improved Doubles while Patti Harding is named as the Most Improved Singles' Player. The squad loses the top three singles' players, Amy Ross, Becky Trittipoe, and Laura Palmer, to graduation. However, the players at the fourth, fifth, and six positions, Jannell Decker, Cheryl Samuelson, and Patti Harding, are all freshmen and will be returning next year.

1. Jannell Decker, #4 singles, demonstrates her forehand stroke.
2. Amy Ross, the #1 seed for four years, attempts to return a lob.
3. Number three singles' player Laura Palmer moves into stroking position.
4. Debbie Billings strokes the ball with feeling.
5. Patti Harding, #6 singles, follows through after her forehand stroke.
6. Coach Pamela Diehl gives Becky Trittipoe some last words of advice before a match.
7. Becky Trittipoe drinks a refreshing glass of water after a grueling match.

Golfers Post 10-4 Record

The Cedarville College golf team bettered their 1977 record of 4-11 to 10-4 for 1978. Freshmen Tim Birk and Brian Johnson led the squad as both have a match record over the .500 mark. Johnson has a record of 7-4-1 for an overall average of 79.7 and a 76.8 league average. Birk plays in the number one position and posts a match record of 10-2 and a 75.0 overall average. His 74.6 league average is a new Cedarville season record.

1. Dan Taylor concentrates on what type of shot he will attempt.
2. Taylor waits for the result of his putt.
3. Dave Riddle drives the ball down across the green.
4. Keith Rice coaxes the ball to go in the hole for a birdie.
5. Number one player Tim Birk exhibits the form that helped him achieve his low average.
6. THE 1978 GOLF TEAM: R. Matter, G. Gromacki, K. Rice, T. Birk, B. Johnson, P. Slusher, D. Riddle, D. Taylor, Coach Allen Monroe.
7. Pete Slusher wonders if Jack Nicklaus started with quadruple bogeys.

ACTIVITIES

1978 Miracle Depicts Types Of Interaction

The 1978 MIRACLE is a compilation of pictures, artwork, and copy that seek to convey the concept of interaction. This interaction, as visualized in this book, can take many different forms. God has created us to have fellowship with each other.

It is through this human interaction that we can know God in a greater cognitive way. Genesis 1:28: "And God blessed them; and God said to them, Be fruitful and multiply, and fill the earth, and subdue it; and rule over the fish of the sea and over the birds of the sky, and over every living thing that moves on the earth." This yearbook does not seek to raise anyone up except the sovereign God of the universe. He alone deserves the credit for the completion of this visual memory of the 1977-78 school year.

1. 1978 MIRACLE STAFF: K. Amstutz, Charles Miller, Marlin Rayburn, R. Scott, J. Techmeyer, J. Zachary, D. Rapinchuk, P. Arvay, N. Tillman, M. Filmer, L. Randall, K. Price.
2. Jan Techmeyer, Rachel Scott, and Paula Arvay display their expertise in the Underclassmen section.
3. Charlie Miller gives Kent Amstutz advice on how to make a yearbook budget go a long way.
4. J. Zachary and D. Rapinchuk become nostalgic over old annuals.
5. The Activities section is ably handled by S. Roth, C. Coates, and D. Dubke.
6. The staff editorially criticizes an old yearbook.
7. Charlie Miller is willing to help the staff with any deadline difficulties.

Swordbearers Have Diverse Ministries

The 1977-78 Swordbearers continue their diverse ministries that center around the local church. There are four core gospel teams, each with a student team leader. Music Coordinator Kathy Howell practices with the four teams combined and then each team schedules separate practices with their team leader. The core team travels on weekends to churches who request their ministry. The ministry includes puppets, seminars, Sunday School lessons, music, Bible teaching and preaching, and youth rallies. The Swordbearers also minister in the homes that extend their hospitality to them.

Swordbearers Plant Churches; Master's Muppets Reach Children

Their are two extensions teams that work with young churches. One team is specifically planting a church in the South Charleston, Ohio area. A fall youth conference is held annually on the first weekend in November. Two core teams travel during the spring break and a team travels for eleven weeks during the summer. The outreach ministries of the Swordbearers are many and give students valuable experience for their future service.

The Master's Muppets continue their successful ministry to children. The teams travel to churches and schools to present God's Word through the medium of puppetry.

1. SWORDBEARERS' EXTENSION TEAM:
C. Spicer, J. Erikson, C. Wicks, B. Lanphier.

2. Marilyn Horne conducts an informative seminar.

Students Reach Out To Geriatric Patients

The Christian Service Department provides opportunities for students to gain experience in serving and ministering to people. One of these ministries is to the geriatric patients in the area rest homes. Seven teams are sent out on weekends to seven local geriatric centers. A short worship service is presented followed by personal interaction with the senior citizens. The Blessed Hope Singers, a group made up of members of all the rest home groups, minister during the service. Emphasis is placed on building friendship and demonstrating God's love to these often forgotten human beings.

1. Rhonda Hettinger shares Christ with a rest home resident.
2. HEATHERGREEN II: FRONT ROW: G. Weldon, A. Wilson, J. Lamb, T. Pachall, M. Norman, M. Highman (team leader); BACK ROW: P. Coates, B. Galbraith, T. Galbreath, S. Reynolds, Kathy Williams, K. Payne, J. Bridges, J. Ebel, D. Farmer.
3. Jo Leeke prays with a lonely geriatric patient.
4. Doug Richardson and Richelle Rose choose the music that will be used in the morning worship service for the geriatric patients.
5. Building friendships is vital in a rest home ministry.

4. Rhonda Hettinger greets a cheerful senior citizen.

5. THE BLESSED HOPE SINGERS: FRONT ROW: T. Filler, D. Woodall, M. Highman, R. King; BACK ROW: J. Ebel, T. Galbreath, K. Jackson, D. Wiggin, C. Jarvis.

6. After a short worship service, Randy Pope participates in personal interaction by sharing verses of Scripture with a geriatric patient.

7. Building friendships is one of the important aspects of the geriatric ministry.

Students Share God's Revelation

Campus Evangelism is a ministry dedicated to sharing God's Word with college students on the campuses of Wright State, Wittenberg and Antioch. This community outreach ministry allows Cedarville students to meet college students with diverse backgrounds and presuppositions of God. The Cedarville student can build a friendship with other college students and may be God's instrument in bringing that student to a saving knowledge of Jesus Christ.

The Greene County jail is another place of ministry for the Cedarville student. Each week, a team conducts a short worship service and then interacts personally with the inmates. Though it is difficult to minister to people with problems that are alien to most of us, God can use us to show His love for them.

1. CAMPUS EVANGELISM: FRONT ROW: T. Yater, D. Merkh, T. DeShields, D. Johnson, B. Riggs, C. Colas; BACK ROW: M. Greve, K. Snyder, S. Brooks, D. Tillson, K. Hosack, B. Namy, B. Rupe, B. McBride, T. Danec, L. Ernst.
2. Mike Mignard converses with an Antioch student.
3. Two Antioch students think about the ideas expressed by a Cedarville student.
4. A Cedarville student shares God's Revelation with a friend.
5. GREENE COUNTY JAIL TEAM: FRONT ROW: K. Rice, D. Rothaar, M. Castellani, G. Bushong; BACK ROW: G. Donaldson.
6. George Mitchell and friends listen as an Antioch student plays his recorder.
7. CAMPUS EVANGELISM: FIRST ROW: G. Mitchell, J. Mishler, K. McCabe, W. Rowe; SECOND ROW: M. Mignard, S. Moore, B. Hansen, C. Miller, A. Simpson, J. Jamison; THIRD ROW: L. Wisnoski, T. Benefiel, B. Mayo, B. Segerstrom, D. Poole.

Students Articulate God's Words

The Bethesda Rehabilitation Center is a domicile for juvenile offenders. Cedarville college students witness to these teenagers by living a consistent Christian life in front of them, and by just being a friend to them.

The Springfield and Dayton Detention Homes are also domiciles for juvenile offenders. Cedarville students try to be involved with the youths in various social and athletic activities. During this time, Cedarville students can show God's love in action.

The Cincinnati Rescue Mission is a place where few Christians visit. Students travel to this place and share Christ and His Word by personally interacting with them and demonstrating God's love for them.

1. BETHESDA REHABILITATION CENTER:
FRONT ROW: D. Riddle, L. Bruening;

7. Andy Simpson teaches the Word of God to the men of the Rescue Mission.
8. Dave Standridge leads in a word of prayer.

Students Meet Needs Of Special People

Barney's Children's Hospital allows Cedarville students to apply for volunteer positions on its staff. The volunteers cheer up children who are having physical difficulties or surgery. By becoming acquainted with the children, the volunteers have opportunities to share Christ's love for children and show them their need of Him as their Savior.

The Yellow Springs Riding Center gives Cedarville students a chance to communicate the Gospel to others while walking their horses.

A ministry to the mentally handicapped is accomplished at the Four Oaks School. Students participate in various social, athletic and academic activities to aid the children in reaching their highest mental and physical maturation points.

1. BARNEY'S CHILDREN'S HOSPITAL: N. Lightner, C. Jacobs, V. Burleson.
2. The Four Oaks gang and the Cedarville bunch go on a hayride.
3. YELLOW SPRINGS RIDING CENTER: FRONT ROW: M. Schwenke, W. Kisner, M. Moore; BACK ROW: P. Michalski, C. Owen, D. Schieber.
4. FOUR OAKS TEAM: FRONT ROW: J. Bubel, C. Brown, B. Stewart, D. Van Ryn; SECOND ROW: D. Miller, D. Mast, N. Addison, S. Bonzo; THIRD ROW: J. Prugh, D. Hartman; FOURTH ROW: B. Weller, R. Crompton, M. Jones, M. Peters.
5. Debbie Mast shares some "girl talk" with a Four Oaks' student.
6. A barbecue by the Cedarville tennis courts is an activity enjoyed by all.

Practical Experience Gained

Several children's churches and Bible clubs are held in local churches and homes. These ministries are practical training grounds for students planning on being involved in some form of Christian Education. Students can apply immediately the theories that they have learned in the classroom.

1. The children's church congregation listens attentively as Betty Rousch and Diane Moore present any discord.
2. LEMAR'S BIBLE CLUB: T. Filler, P. Taylor
3. Children's church leader Evie Williams teaches an object lesson about birds.
4. CHURCH STREET BIBLE CLUB: B. Guenther, D. Jackson, S. Cartan, K. Griffiths.
5. Evie Williams teaches Matthew 7:24 to the children in her group.

Students Show Their Love For Children

The Old Soldiers and Sailors Orphanage is a home for unwanted and homeless children. Cedarville students travel to the home Sunday mornings and evenings to teach Sunday School and participate in extracurricular activities. The Holy Spirit has chosen to work in the lives of these unfortunate children and many have received Christ as their personal Savior.

The Big Sisters Christian Service group has opportunities to build friendly relationships with young girls and to share with them their close personal fellowship with Jesus Christ.

1. Chris Starbuck spends time with an O.S.S.O. resident.
2. "You can't fool me," says O.S.S.O. student Tom Sexton.
3. Karen Steinhofer and friends pose for a "family photo."
4. OLD SOLDIERS AND SAILORS ORPHANAGE GROUP, A.M. AND P.M.:
FRONT ROW: K. Hakes, P. Mullican, D. Cvetich, D. Mantz, R. Northcutt, J. Footman, R. Raabe, G. Johnson, G. Hinkle, S. Dawson, J. Ward, G. Wickham, J. Bradshaw, J. Smith, E. Smith, G. Howe, R. Wilcox, D. Conrad, M. Pressau; BACK ROW: N. Rehn, C. Olson, S. Decker, B. Cave, R. Wetzel, B. Johnston, M. Stephens, R. Wolf, K. Webb, S. Runge, D. Fulmer, J. Rohde, S. Beight.
5. BIG SISTERS: D. Morgan, J. Loucks, B. Meibuh, M. Bowman, D. Wiggins, D. Drummer, N. Grace, K. Johnson, J. Cottrell, K. Brecher, J. Hansen, J. Kitchen.
6. Ruth Sprague challenges an O.S.S.O. student to a baseball game.
7. Lynne Donnelly shows an O.S.S.O. resident a passage of Scripture.

Students Share The Gospel In Florida

Over twenty students go to Florida over the 1978 spring break to share the Gospel with others on the beaches. The students are divided into two teams and they minister in different churches over the one Sunday that they are in Florida.

Staying in homes of contacts made previously, the students spend each day on the beaches sharing God's revelation in nature, His Word, and Jesus Christ. The beaches are generally packed with college students, so Cedarville students can easily relate to them.

1. BEACH EVANGELISM: FRONT ROW: C. Zelonis, M. Shaw, K. Gaines, P. Edwards, T. Yater, S. Piazza, D. Drozek; BACK

ROW: M. Cuffman, B. Lanphier, M. Lones, G. Decker, J. Erikson, C. Heathy, B. Vesilko, B. Myers, B. Rupe, C. Miller, D. Blackburn, B. Driscoll.

2. Ken Gaines befriends a lonely man.

3. Jan Anderson, Becky Rupe, Ginny Decker, and P.G. are amused by merely leaning against a beach wall.

4. Amy Ross and Bonnie Vesilko pose for a quick surside shot.

5. Craig Miller articulates God's Revelations to man through nature, His Word, and His Son.

6. Kathy Mallare familiarizes herself with the tract that will be sharing with others.

7. Russ Yoder attempts to open the communication lines with a young man.

8. Debbie Blackburn and Becky Driscoll listen attentively, hoping to have a chance to share the Gospel with this gentleman.

Students Gain Valuable Experience

The Missionary Internship Service provides an opportunity for students to experience the ministry of Christian missions. If the service is abroad, the student can enlarge his mind culturally as well as spiritually. The large task of planting indigenous New Testament churches can be aided by students who are willing to help. The 1978 M.I.S. group goes to Chad and Liberia, Africa, Brazil, Ireland, Israel, Philippine Republic, Mexico, Indiana and Utah.

The 1978 Summer Swordbearers travel in the mid-west, bringing their wide-range ministry to local churches and camps.

1. ISRAEL: J. Veldt, S. Arthur, M. Kirby, J. Jamison, D. Rowe.
2. AFRICA: S. Taylor (Chad), D. Drozek (Chad), R. Martin, D. Richardson (Chad).
3. BRAZIL WORK TEAM: FRONT ROW: R. Strobbridge; BACK ROW: T. Knight, S. Smith, R. Smith.
4. FORTALEZA, BRAZIL: C. Sirka.
5. IRELAND: FRONT ROW: V. Maloney, T. Danec; BACK ROW: A. Morgan.
6. MEXICO: E. Williams, Miss Carmen Shirk, C. Denny, L. McClure.
7. BRAZIL SINGING TEAM: FRONT ROW: J. Luce, L. Goheen, N. Reitnauer, D. Messenger, W. Kisner, J. Bradshaw, B. Few; BACK ROW: R. Connors, J. Riter, L. West, D. Kisner (team leader).

9. UNITED STATES: G. Longnecker (Utah), T. Hoganson (Utah), D. Seldon (Indiana).
10. PHILIPPINE REPUBLIC: K. Anderson.
11. PHILIPPINE REPUBLIC BASKETBALL TEAM: FRONT ROW: D. Green, M. Streitmatter, K. Kauffman, J. Lantz; BACK ROW: T. Hutchison, B. Mick, B. Riggs, F. Richer, Coach Don Callan.

Service And Musicianship Emphasized

The Academic Advisory Board consists of some students from each discipline. The Board is chaired by Academic Dean Clifford Johnson. They discuss issues that pertain to classroom activities.

The Advisory Twelve is a group of men that serve the Cedarville College Fellowship.

The Personnel Assistants are students, living in the dorms, who aid the Student Personnel office in spotting potential difficulties among students.

1. STUDENT ACADEMIC ADVISORY BOARD: L. Avery, P. North, M. Cuffman, D. Denny, A. Ross, S. Kuntzelman, S. Mesner, Academic Dean Clifford Johnson.

2. ADVISORY TWELVE: M. Shaw, T. Paschall, J. Footman, M. Highman, R. Campbell.

Cedars Publishes Weekly

WHISPERING CEDARS, the college newspaper, became a weekly paper for the 1977-78 school year. The depth of the CEDARS has greatly improved with better news reporting and unique feature articles. Series articles are frequent on topics such as what students can do with their major after graduation. The paper is enhanced by the syndicated feature, "Washington Merry-Go-Round" by Jack Anderson and Charles Schulz' "Peanuts." Clever political and satirical cartoons are printed frequently to add wit and wisdom to the paper. A popular feature is "Letters to the Editor" in which students can express their opinions. This aids in bringing issues out in to the open so there is no rumor about it. The feature teaches the student how to articulate their opinions in writing. Though sometimes controversial, the letters usually bring about positive action that improves the school. The editors write editorials each week on some current school issue or problem. The problem is stated and a possible solution is given.

1. The CEDARS staff is hard at work to meet their publishing deadline.
2. Mark Warren counts the number of characters in an average line of copy. 3. Kris Karsian begins doing the layout for the current newspaper.
4. EDITORIAL STAFF: FRONT ROW: C. Phillips (Layout Editor); BACK ROW: S. Zink (Copy Editor), C. Miller (Editor-in-Chief), D. Green (Business Manager).
5. Claire Phillips and Kris Karsian do the preliminary paste-up of the newspaper.
6. Amy Ross, Bill Abernathy, and Martha Sprano check for copy errors before the paper goes to the printers.

Senate And SBP Provide Services

The Cedarville College Student Senate is a voice for students to the administration. The Senate provides vending machines with assorted snacks and soft drinks.

A winter diversion is sought in the creation of the first annual Ear Week. Professors and students participated in activities centering around the auditory system.

The Student Body Project Committee consists of several students working together to locate suitable projects on campus. This year SBP organizes a hopscotch marathon to break the Guinness World Record. Rick Jones and Ron Wetzel hopscotch for 40 hours to break the previous record of 39 hours.

1. Dawn Curtis entertains at the First Annual Anatomy Award during Ear Week.
2. Dr. Ron Bigelow promotes the Health Service's new jumbo-size Q-tip.

Organizations Are Informative And Practical

Chi Theta Pi is an organization that specializes in providing students with information about the health professions. Special speakers are brought in to share their experiences in health care. Missionary health personnel are invited to share that type of ministry.

The Education Club seeks to demonstrate current trends in Christian and public education. The organization also provides fellowship for students with common goals.

"Communicators for Christ" is the name of the newly formed radio organization. Broadcasting majors are members and they seek to learn more about the mechanics of operating a Christian radio station.

Village Players present Thornton Wilder's classic, "Our Town" in the fall and George Bernard Shaw's "Pygmalion" in the spring. The group seeks to broaden the students' education through drama.

The Music Educators National Conference has a chapter at Cedarville College. MENC takes on another daring and difficult task in producing the long-running Broadway hit, "Fiddler on the Roof." The purpose of the group is to acquaint students with the current trends in music education.

UNDERCLASSMEN

382 Comprise Class Of 1981

The Freshman Class is comprised of approximately 382 members. They participate in activities that include Sadie Hawkin's race, roller skating, bowling, and several gym nights. Their members are eager to be involved in the activities and events offered to them. Their enthusiasm is refreshing to the somewhat "booged-down" upper classman. This enthusiasm should be continued to keep Cedarville's zeal alive.

1. The Freshman Class attempts to locate their shoes after a Sophomore-Freshman game night in the gym.
2. FRESHMAN CLASS OFFICERS:
SEATED: Tom Paschall (Chaplain), David Price (Student Senate), Cheryl McMillan (Secretary); STANDING: Rick Jones (Student Senate), Valde Garcia (President), Randy Meister (Vice-President), Ted DeShields (Treasurer).
3. Pam Kahl believes in moisturizing her scalp with a rich lather before having her head shaved.
4. Rhonda Hettinger exhibits her winning smile.
5. Only a few ownerless shoes remain after the orientation gym night given for the Freshman Class by the Class of 1980.
6. Betsy Froh waits for a special phone call.
7. "Help me, help me, my curlers are too tight!" cries a South Hall resident in anguish.
8. For an incoming Freshman, the registration lines seem endless.

Sophomores Enjoy Active Year

The Sophomore Class enjoyed an active year. They start by winning the float competition in the 1977 homecoming festivities. The class sponsors the well-attended all-school Halloween Party which was an excellent fund-raising tool. A rollerskating party and a bowling party are held near final exams for a study break. The year was highlighted by a weekend retreat at Shawnee Lodge April 20 and 21, 1978.

1. One of the joys of Christian fellowship is sharing a time of prayer with a friend.
2. "Where has SHE been all of my life?" drools Brad Johnson.

3. SOPHOMORE CLASS OFFICERS:
FRONT ROW: Dan Green (Treasurer), Dawn Jansen (Secretary), Becky Rupe (Student Senate Alt.), Ginny Decker (Vice-President); BACK ROW: Nate Rehn (Student Senate), Craig Colas (President), Kim Kauffman (Chaplain), Linda Kuschel (Student Senate) is not pictured.

4. Jane Tedeschi spends a quite evening doing her Theology Survey notebook.
5. "Is it time to get up again?" laments Scott Hinks.

Juniors Sponsor J.S. Banquet

The Class of 1979 conducts a bowling party in the fall which is well-attended. A picnic at Heuston Woods State Park is held in the Spring Quarter. The juniors participate in boating and softball at the spring function.

Fund-raising activities include sharing the survival kit responsibilities with the Senior Class during the Spring Quarter final exams.

The Class of 1979 honor the Class of 1978 with a delightful banquet at the Ohio State Fawcett Center for Tomorrow. Gospel recording artist Johnny Hall is the entertainment for the evening.

The uniqueness of the Junior Class is exhibited in their Homecoming float entry. The float is probably the tallest and possibly the largest ever to grace Cedarville streets. The design is definitely avant-garde.

1. Jim German pretends to be thoroughly engrossed in a book while he catches up on some lost sleep.

2. Karen Dyer shares a praise with the Student Body during a day of prayer.

3. Denise Kelso wonders what she is doing in the gym when she has a pile of homework to do in the room.

4. JUNIOR CLASS OFFICERS: SEATED: Vance Maloney (Student Senate), Cindy Hall (Treasurer), Lisa McClure (Vice-President), Joan Surso (Secretary), John Potter (President); STANDING: Warren Throckmorton (Student Senate), Allen Webber (Chaplain).

5. John Eissens reviews chemical mechanisms and reactions for an upcoming organic chemistry exam.

6. Lori Neal heads toward the tennis courts to watch some tennis player in a singles match.

Juniors Included In Who's Who

Six juniors are selected to be included in the 1977-78 Who's Who Among Students in Universities and Colleges. The basis of their selection is academic performance, co-curricular activities, Christian testimony, and general contribution to campus life. Who's Who certificates are presented during the Honor's Day convocation in May. A volume is published with a compilation of students' biographies. A reference and student placement service is provided by the organization. The Student Affairs Committee, Personnel Assistants, and leaders of campus organizations make the annual selections.

SENIORS

Class Of 1978 Departs From Cedarville

The infamous Class of 1978 is finally departing the halls of Cedarville. This class is President Jeremiah's final graduating class as the Chief Executive of the College. They were the last class to initiate a sophomore class in the proper manner. During their freshman year, the first and last annual Nostalgia Day is held. Family style meals are given a decent burial and television and wide-screen chapels are dropped after the spring of 1975. Split chapels are held until the construction of the new chapel is completed. As Juniors, the Class of 1978 actively participates in the election of Dr. Allen Monroe and Mr. David Matson as the President and Vice-President of Cedar What. The senior year is highlighted by the announcement of Evangelist Paul Dixon's appointment to the Cedarville College Presidency. President James T. Jeremiah is appointed Chancellor of the College. A record blizzard paralyzes the entire Cedarville community for two days.

The Senior Class sells survival kits during final exams and plants during an edifying Encouragement Week.

The active class takes 50 members to Florida for the senior trip. Their Homecoming float places second to a well-constructed Sophomore Class float. Other activities include a King's Island Day, a late-night bowling party, and a trip to the Globetrotters Basketball Game at the University of Dayton. A memory-packed Senior Chapel is presented to the entire college community.

2. Mark McDougal contemplates a method by which he can redeem his "call for package."
3. Rhonda Young of Cedarville challenges Ali to show his skill.

Day by day and with each passing moment,
Strength I find to meet my trials here;
Trusting in my Father's wise
bestowment,
I've no cause for
worry or for fear.
He whose heart is kind beyond all measure
Gives unto each day
what He deems best
Lovingly, its part of pain and pleasure,
Mingling toil with peace and rest.

Seniors Included In Who's Who

Seventeen seniors are selected to be included in the 1977-78 Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges. The basis of selection is academic performance, co-curricular activities, Christian testimony, and general contribution to campus life. Who's Who certificates are presented during the Honor's Day Program in May, 1978. A volume is published each year with all students' biographies listed. A reference and student placement service is provided for each student honored.

Eighty-Second Commencement Honors Dr. Jeremiah And Graduates

Cedarville College confers 223 baccalaureate degrees at the Eighty-Second Commencement on June 3, 1978 in the newly-named James T. Jeremiah Chapel. The Commencement begins with the traditional academic procession from the Gym-Student Center to the Chapel. President James T. Jeremiah introduces President-Elect Paul Dixon. Mr. Dixon presents a response that includes the desire to build upon Dr. Jeremiah's solid foundation. Senior Class President Martin C. Shaw, Jr. presents Dr. Jeremiah with a class gift of two paddle boats for Cedar Lake.

1. Victoria Clark leads the commencement procession.
2. Dr. Jeremiah introduces President-Elect Paul Dixon.
3. Mr. Dixon presents a response that includes the desire to build upon Dr. Jeremiah's solid foundation.
4. The candidates for graduation are presented to President Jeremiah by Academic Dean Clifford Johnson.
5. Debbie Kerrigan receives the Clifford R. Maddox Memorial Award for attaining the highest average in the Undergraduate Record Examination Field tests.
6. Dr. Jeremiah greets Lydia West with the traditional graduation handshake as she accepts her diploma.
7. Mr. J. Dale Murphy, Chairman of the Board of Trustees, gives Dr. Jeremiah a plaque stating that the Chapel will now be known as the James T. Jeremiah Chapel.

President James T. Jeremiah responds by saying that he will personally test-drive the new additions to Cedar Lake.

Academic Dean Clifford W.

Johnson presents the candidates to President Jeremiah for graduation. Dr. Jeremiah presents a challenge to the graduates and confers the degrees as Dr. Johnson reads the names of each graduate. A variety of awards are given to the college graduates. Dr. Jeremiah receives several acknowledgements and honors in recognition of his consistent twenty-five year Presidency. A portrait will hang in the James

T. Jeremiah Chapel and the annual President's Trophy will now be called The James T. Jeremiah Trophy. The trophy now consists of a monetary award as well as an engraved plaque. Bound letters from students, alumni, faculty,

G.A.R.B.C. officials and well-wishers are given to the exciting President. Donations are made to the Chapel in Dr. Jeremiah's name. A scholarship fund is set up in Mrs. Ruby Jeremiah's name by the Cedarville College Women's Fellowship. The Cedarville College Concert Choir sings Felix Mendelssohn's "O

Great is the Depth"

accompanied by pianist Diane N. De Nicola and organist Lynnette

R. Stauffer. The choir is directed by Mr. David L.

Matson. Class Advisor William R. Riter says a prayer of dedication for the new graduates. The Alma Mater is sung and President Jame T. Jeremiah pronounces the benediction.

The faculty, administration, marshalls, and graduates lead the recessional.

1. Tom Chmura receives congratulations from Dr. Johnson as he is awarded the Arthur Franklin Williams Grant as well as the Jimmy O'Quinn Evangelism Grant.

2. The Music Trophy is awarded to Dianne DeNicola. It is given for outstanding musical scholarship and for service to Christ through music.

3. Carl Zelonis receives the Martha Louise Brown Award for his active participation in Christian Service.

4. The valedictorian of the Class of 1978 is Sandra Sayre Glenney.

5. The expressions on their faces demonstrate the sentiments of the day.

6. Jody Grosh presents Dr. Jeremiah with a plaque signifying the renaming of the President's Trophy to the James T. Jeremiah Trophy.

7. Dr. Jeremiah presents the President's Trophy to the 1978 recipients, Lydia West and Kent Amstutz.
